FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Hardigg Cases® Launches Mobile Armory FieldPak

After dominating the protective case industry for more than half a century with its groundbreaking hard-shell transport solutions, Hardigg Cases reveals its softer side.

Responding to demand for a strong, high-quality, soft transport case, Hardigg is launching Mobile Armory FieldPak—a line of soft-sided cases that will once again revolutionize the industry. Manufactured in partnership with Eagle Industries to Hardigg's exacting demands for protection and durability, these are the only soft-sided cases tough enough to wear the Hardigg brand.

The first three models—targeted at military and law enforcement personnel, sportsmen, and gun enthusiasts—share the same interior dimensions as Hardigg's Storm Case® iM3100 (36.5" x 14" x 6.0"), iM3200 (44.0" x 14.0" x 6.0"), and iM3300 (50.5" x 14.0" x 6.0"), and are available in Black or Coyote Tan. Made in the USA of #1000-denier Cordura® nylon—resistant to rips, tears, and abrasions—they are designed to safely transport rifles, shotguns, assault rifles, and other long-barreled firearms. Each case has room for two weapons and accessories, and is padded throughout with high-density closed-cell foam, which absorbs shock and repels water. A detachable padded shoulder strap makes the cases comfortable to carry, and clips into 1" Mil Spec "D" rings mounted in nylon webbing and triple-stitched to the case. Inside, an adjustable muzzle guard, security straps, and 1" adjustable webbing ensure that firearms and accessories are held firmly in place, no matter the shape or size. For additional protection, the cases include a 3/8" thick divider, which can also be detached and used as a shooting mat. All three models include a removable storage pouch for ammunition or other accessories, and heavy-duty #9 YKK® zippers to ensure that they zip closed easily and stay closed securely.
